SAN JOSE. SAN JOSE.

BERFORD & CO'S LINE
OF EXPRESS MAIL STAGES,
HALL & CRANDALL, PROPRIETORS.

ARE now running every morning to San Jose, leaving Berford & Co's office, in the Plaza, at 8 o'clock, A. M. and the City Hotel, in San Jose, at 7 o'clock, A. M.

The reduced rate of fare puts it in the power of every one to visit the beautiful and healthful valley of Santa Clara. There is no more charming drive in California than that from San Francisco to San Jose, and as one is whirled rapidly through the oak openings and across the level plains under the skilful driving of Professors Dillon or Crandal, who drive their own coaches, he finds that pleasure is united with business, and wonders he has never made the trip before.

The great advantage this line possesses over all others, is that the Stages were bought expressly for the road, and with a particular attention to SAFETY, while the drivers, who have served a long apprenticeship from New England to Mexico, make the QUICKEST time and NEVER MEET WITH ACCIDENTS, which are so likely to occur with the old fashioned stage coaches. We invite our friends to give the line a trial. n7tf BERFORD & CO.

SAN FRANCISCO. SAN JOSE.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS.

THE PROPRIETORS of the U.S. MAIL line of Stages have discontinued running their line through by land between San Francisco to San Jose, and are now running a DAILY Line to and from the Embarcadero, in connection with the steamers WM. ROBINSON and NEW STAR.

All their old friends and the traveling public will find this a much cheaper and more pleasant route than by land, at this season of the year.

Stage Proprietors.

THE LOS ANGELES STAR.

WE PURPOSE publishing on the 7th of April next, at the city of Los Angeles, California, the first number of a weekly newspaper, to be called the LOS ANGELES STAR, AND SOUTHERN PIONEER.

The importance which the southern portion of the State of California has already assumed, has rendered it necessary that there should be established in it a newspaper which shall represent the interests of the residents of that region. The tide of empire which has already flowed Westward until it has been stayed by the surges of the Pacific, is now turning in a Southerly direction, and the rich agricultural and mineral resources of Southern California are rapidly being developed by American enterprise.

The STAR will be devoted to the spread of American principles, the interests of our State generally, and particularly of its Southern portion. While we shall endeavor to maintain in its conduct an independence which should characterize the American press, we shall at the same time make our paper the supporter of the direct interests of the community in which it is published. We trust, however, to make it of interest not only to the immediate region of its publication, but to the State generally.

A prominent feature of the STAR will be that a large portion of the editorial and other matter will be printed in the Spanish language. As yet there is no paper in the State devoted in any degree to the interests of the native population of California, or printed in a language which they can read.

The editors of the STAR have been for many years connected with the Press, and one of them has resided in California nearly five years, and is intimately acquainted with her history and her people. Mail arrangements are nearly completed, by which our paper can be sent regularly to all parts of the State. We shall print a fair-sized sheet, and are in possession of the material to enable us to exhibit a neat typographical appearance. The terms of the STAR will be $10 per annum, payable in advance.

THE TOWN OF KLAMATH.

ON THE KLAMATH RIVER—The only direct and the cheapest route to the Klamath and Salmon River Mines—has been surveyed and laid out, being situated about three miles from the entrance of the river into the Pacific, in latitude 41 deg. 33 min. North, about 250 miles from San Francisco, and is destined speedily to become one of the most flourishing towns in California, as premised from the following facts, to wit: The Klamath River affords a safe and excellent Harbor, and at all times capable of ingress or egress to the heaviest shipping; and is navigable for steamers from the Town to the Mines, distant from 50 to 75 miles. The river abounds with the finest salmon, the valleys with deer and elk, the forests with a noble growth of pine and red wood, fit for piles, spars, or lumber. While the Mines on the Klamath and its numerous tributaries, among which are the Salmon, Shasta and Ross rivers, are, it is confidently believed, paying better than any other mines in California, as during the past season they have averaged not less than one ounce of gold per day to a man, while multitudes of the more industrious class have made their two and three ounces a day. The climate is one of the finest and most healthy that California affords. Therefore, to the Merchant, the Miner, Mechanic, and Capitalist, it may be truly said: here is presented a field for the investment of labor and capital not surpassed by any other in California. Vessels are now running from San Francisco to the River, and a line of steamers will soon be put on the route; also a steamboat to ply between Klamath and the Mines.

For further particulars inquire of SHULTZ & PALMER, foot of Jackson street, or JOHN GRAY, Jr., Central Wharf, opposite Whitehall, where maps of the Town can be seen.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

THE SUBSCRIBER has established a general COMMERCIAL REGISTER OFFICE, in the lower room of Howard & Green's fireproof Building, Montgomery st. between Clay and Commercial streets, where a description is given of the position and distinguishing marks of every sea-going vessel arriving in the Harbor after this date.

Persons wishing to board ships, with whose berths they are unacquainted, will save time and money by applying at the office, and gaining the desired information.

A News Agent has been appointed by the undersigned, who will inter[illegible] all vessels entering the port, and he will immediately express full particulars respecting them to this office, wh[illegible] a Record is kept of all arrivals and departures.

A Confidential Messenger will be constantly in attendance at the office, who will undertake the prompt forwarding of letters to and from all vessels in the harbor, and the execution of commissions with fidelity and dispatch.

Charge for perusal of the Book containing a List of Arrivals and other general information, 25 cts; Fee for inspection of the Book specifying the Berth of the Shipping, 50 cts. (14) THOMAS BUNTING.

THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS REWARD

WILL BE PAID for the apprehension and conviction of one JESSEE J. GRAHAM, who murdered Dennis Bennett, in Cyante, Santa Cruz, State of California, on the 22d of April, A. D. 1850. The said Jessee J. Graham is about six feet high, dark complexion, dark eyes, round shoulders, stoops when he walks; has a very frowning look, and speaks through his nose. It was supposed that he laid concealed in Cyante until the last day of August or about the first of September, and when last seen, was met in company with some others on the Salinas, on his way to the river Colorado, and to Texas, where his mother resides. The above reward will be paid: [illegible], or Mont[illegible] safe delivery at San Francisco, Santa Cruz, [illegible] other one thousand by the county of Santa [illegible] thousand by JACKSON BENNETT, brother of deceased.

Stick to Your Party.

The great tendency of the age is that which was the characteristic weakness of the Corinthians, towards "some new thing." Improvement, progression, to save labor, to save time, to do something better, or to do it quicker than heretofore, or to do something which has never before been performed; these are the great business of life with a large portion of our restless people. It is individual, it is national. It is a habit of private life, it is a growing disposition with many who pretend to be partizans. Hence, we find not a few whigs, who really have the interests of the party at heart, and who would regret exceedingly to do, or to have done aught that shouln weaken or defeat it, lending themselves or their influence in ways and for purposes calculated to defeat the party. Some Independent party starts up with the rapidity of Jonah's gourd, or a California squash, and with very much the same stability and substance, washy and wilting, and at once they encourage its growth by promising their votes or their influence to its candidate, who is perchance their personal friend. Or some man who thinks himself slighted, announces his willingness, if sufficiently pressed, to sacrifice himself for the good of his country, like Curtius of old, and will leap into office, as he did into the chasm. This is something new, and our progressive man forgets his old faith to follow it.

We like progress as well as the next man. Believe in doing things as well and as fast as possible, and improving upon everything within the bounds of reason and effort. But there are usually better ways of getting ahead than by striking out of old and beaten tracks into new and unknown ones, which have not only never been cleared of stumps and brush but have not ever been surveyed. We prefer to keep the engine on the track, and if she is not fast enough for the times, put on more steam or improve her construction. Just so with the good old Republican track over which the Whig car has been traveling for so many years. Give us the old track yet. It may not be exactly what we wish it. It may not be an air line. Its grading may not be perfect. Some of its rails may be a little loose. A pin or two may be wanting in its tinsel work, and in some places the grade may not be a dead level. The car may want a little oil, a little more coal, a little more water, its springs may not be altogether easy and a jolt may occasionally occur. Yet the track is a good one—we honestly believe the only safe one. It is preferable to making a new one. We Whigs can straighten it if it be crooked, its grade can be leveled, it can be excavated in one place to fill up in another, it is the old T iron track; it needs only a little repair. Our car is a good one, in which we have made many comfortable passages, and can again. Only let us be careful to obtain good engineers, and firemen. In other words, good candidates, and then each of us take held with our coats off, and feed the engine.

To reduce our metaphor to actual things, let it be considered that our party, in the main, is all right. But some of the working gear is out of order. It has, in fact, never been fairly in order in this State. The party should therefore commence and thoroughly organize. If there be any thing in it which is not adapted to the exigencies of the times, let it be so at once. The world is running against time, and the Whigs, if they would win, must run with it. They need not sacrifice principle—they should not. But let them avoid confounding mere political suppositions with moral axioms, and not mistake mere theories in legislation for questions of conscience. If they have ever held to a principle which has been proven by actual trial unsound, cast it aside at once. The party has been more than once defeated by still clinging too tenaciously to a preconceived opinion. This tendency is as dangerous as that which flies off in a tangent after every new doctrine. There is only one way to ensure success. It is by a thorough organization, and that upon a platform of reason and common sense. The party must adapt itself to the spirit of the age. This it can do and still be sufficiently conservative. It will not do to contend for old exploded theories, as those which the people have rejected whether wisely or unwisely. It will not do to consider men as they should be, as did the old novelist Richardson. Forty "Sir Charles Grandison's" would possess less force in the actual world, than one real "Davy Crockett"—one man adapting himself to the real circumstances of the times. We have to do with men as they are, with things as they exist, with tendencies and belief, with political questions which change their aspects, and require wisdom for adaptation to their changing phases. He is no sailor who does not turn his sails to the wind, preferring to gain as much as possible towards his port rather than drift with his canvass prepared for a fair wind, dead to leeward. So of the politician. Without any sacrifice of principle, he should be wise enough to take advantage of each change in the political breezes.

The Whig party has got to work—to work hard, or be defeated. It has too often felt strong and confident before the election, and regretted afterwards the paralyzing effects of its confidence. It has often expended its force, its money, its speeches, its energies, in great meetings before the battle, and then been beaten at the polls by a minority, well organized, who husbanded their strength, even while in the most perfect drill, and came to the ballot box the first thing in the contest. The Whigs should throw all mere personal preferences for candidates to the winds. The most fitting and popular men should be nominated, and then every man of the party throw himself, heart and soul, into the effort to elect them. It is not enough that general committees, or central, or county, or city, or ward committees be appointed, and do their duty. Each Whig ought to consider himself a committee of one and do his utmost. Every town, every ward, every house should be canvassed, every voter be appealed to, every one be made ready to come to the polls, and means taken to ensure his presence there. If the Whigs wish to win, and mean to win, it is time they were about the preparations. The victory is within their grasp, but it can easily slip between their fingers, and will do so, unless they exert their muscles, and clasp their hands upon the prize.

Bill to Fund the City Debt.

Several various propositions have been laid before our Legislature to determine some effective and practicable manner to fund our present enormous floating debt, and various are the opinions and conjectures entertained by those who have taken an interest in the matter. So soon as some plan is devised which will secure this object, its effect will be seen not only in the advance of all floating paper and liabilities, but it will give an impulse to all branches of trade, and restore confidence abroad. Among the propositions suggested, we find a bill submitted by the Hon. J. D. Carr, of the Assembly, on last Monday, which provides in the outset that a Board of Commissioners shall be appointed who shall hold their office during good behavior, and whose vacancies can be filled by Mayor and Common Council. Messrs. Theodore Shillaber, D. J. Tallant, William Hooper, Talbot H. Green, and James King of William, are named as persons suitable for the appointment. The commissioners have power to issue certificates of stock of a denomination not less than one hundred dollars, to the amount of the whole city debt which shall have accrued up to the first of May, 1851. The certificates bear an interest of twelve per cent. per annum, payable half yearly, and redeemable in twenty years. The Commissioners are required, previous to making the general assessment list to furnish to the City Assessors the amount required to be raised for funding the debt of the current year, and the Assessors in completing their list shall add to the amount authorized by law, the sum of fifty thousand dollars, for the purpose of a sinking Fund for the redemption of stock. The City Treasurer is required to pay over to the Commissioners the money as fast as it is collected, and no other disbursement can be made until the amount authorized by law shall have been received.

After the interest of the stock has been paid, if there is any surplus remaining, it may be appropriated to paying the necessary expenses of the commission, and to the extinguishment of such portions of the principal debt as they may be able. The books, papers, &c. shall be subject to the inspection of the Mayor and Inspector, and an annual statement shall be sent to the Common Council, and published in one of our daily papers.

The commissioners are required to give bonds for the faithful performance of their duties, and are to receive a salary to be fixed by the Common Council. The District Court having original jurisdiction in this city, power is conferred upon it to enforce obedience to this law, and punish any violations of its provisions. Any persons holding city indebtedness in any shape, can have the privilege of exchanging the same for the twelve or seven per cent. bonds, the latter redeemable at the same time, and payable at the rate of one hundred cents for each ninety cents of such indebtedness. No person claims against the city, which shall not have been liquidated at the time of the passage of this bill, shall not be entitled to the benefits of its provisions, unless they signify their election to exchange such claims for funded stock which shall be dated on that day. This, however, does not deprive any creditor who may not choose to do this from having recourse to other legal means to enforce his claims.

Robbery.—A complaint was made before the Recorder yesterday, by a Mr. Arthur, who states that he was robbed at the New England House, on Pacific street. Mr. Arthur is a person who has just come down from the mines, took lodgings at the above place, and upon awakening yesterday morning, he discovered that his purse had been taken, which contained a few gold specimens, probably worth over $100, and a California gold ring. The ring is a costly one, having upon it a heart with the initials of his name engraved. A warrant was immediately issued.

☞ We return our thanks to Hon. Wm. M. Gwin, of the Senate, and Hon. W. A. Gorman, E. Gilbert and T. D. J. Fuller, of the House of Representatives, for valuable and interesting public documents.

The Fugitive Slave Case.

Before the Hon. Rod'k N. Morrison, County Judge.

In the matter of Frank, a colored boy. Habeas corpus. March 31, 1851.

The relator was brought before me on a habeas corpus, sued out by him on a petition that he was illegally restrained of his liberty, by John F. Calloway, who appeared and returned to the writ, that he claimed the boy as his slave; that he had brought him from the State of Missouri, and had him in his possession, with the intention of taking him back to that State.

The Counsel for the relator demands the return, and traversed the fact that he was the slave of the respondent as alleged.

The only question which arises in this as well as in all other cases of habeas corpus, is, whether the relator is restrained of his liberty contrary to law.

It appears from the proofs submitted at the hearing, that the respondent had possession of the relator in Missouri, and that he was in his employ and under his control, and was understood by the witness to be his slave. No documentary evidence was given of his title.

That he brought the boy with him in August last, and had him in his employment at the mines, until the 20th of February, when he left him. The respondent found and arrested him; placed him under restraint in safe keeping, to take him on board a vessel to remove him from this State to Missouri, where he claims to be a resident.

The action of the respondent, to say the least, has been hasty and ill-advised. If he was entitled to the custody of the relator as his slave, and desired to remove him from this State, it is obvious that the only mode in which he could properly have exercised that right was to have sued out a warrant for his apprehension from some officer designated by the act of Congress; or to have arrested him and taken him forthwith before such officer, whose duty it would have been to "hear and determine" the case, and to certify the fact whether the relator owed service to the respondent according to the provisions of the Act of Congress of Sept. 18th, 1850.

Instead of pursuing the requirements of this act, and without invoking the aid provided by it, he fearfully assumes the administration of the law in his own hands, and proceeds to enforce his claims upon the relator, according to his own views of his legal rights. If, however, he has violated no law, he is entitled to judgment on this writ, and the relator must be remanded to his custody.

The first question to be considered, is whether the respondent has proved the relator to have been his slave in Missouri?

In the determination of this question it is essential to inquire whether the well known common law rule of evidence, which holds that the possession of personal property raises a presumption of ownership is applied to human beings, as well as to ordinary chattels, to animate as well as inanimate property? In my view, there is a wide and just distinction; that while our common parent gave to man "dominion over the fish of the sea, and the fowl of the air, and over the cattle," he created all men equal, and if one man has acquired dominion in a servile sense, over another, it must be established by a clear and affirmative testimony. Lord Mansfield said in the case of Somerset that "slavery was so odious that nothing can be suffered to support it but positive law." All the presumptions are in favor of personal liberty, nothing should be taken by implication against natural rights, of which personal equality is one and "inalienable."

The employment of the relator by the respondent was not inconsistent with the ordinary employment by him, and the legal presumption is that it was founded on a contract, expressed or implied. Instead of the proof on this point being strong, it is loose and unsatisfactory. Upon this ground alone, sitting as a jury I should feel constrained to discharge the relator. The respondent is presumed to have been advised that slavery was not tolerated here by the laws of Mexico when she yielded to our flag, and that the constitution of this State adopted before he left Missouri, emphatically pronounced against it, and the slave holder should have armed himself with the proper muniments of his title there.

I am aware that in many, and probably most of the slaveholding states, color is held as prima facie evidence of servitude. It is so held in the Carolinas, Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland, and formerly in New Jersey, while slavery existed there, and in Missouri, it has been held that title to a slave may be acquired by proscription, 1 Miss. R. 626.

These doctrines are better fitted to the bond than to the free, and are certainly in direct opposition to the well settled principles of the common law, which kept no company with slavery, but according to one of its popular maxims, specially favored life, liberty, and dower.

The boy before me appears to be of the whole Afric blood, and if color is to be the test, I should be obliged to decide the issue against him.

There are other inquiries connected with this case.

Admitting that the relator was the slave property of the respondent in Missouri, what in legal judgment, are their positions here where "neither slavery nor involuntary servitude shall ever be tolerated." Const. of Cal.

It is not alleged that the relator "escaped" or that the master is pursuing him as a "fugitive," but on the contrary he states in his return that he "brought him with him" under such circumstances is he any longer a slave here or elsewhere. In the view which I have taken of the subject, he can neither be held either by the law of California or Missouri.

It will not be controverted, that independent of the provisions of the Federal Constitution, in relation to the extradition of fugitive slaves and the acts of Congress under it, the several states of this republic are to each other substantially foreign; bound together by a common interest and owing obedience to the Federal power only. In other respects their relations with each other are founded on comity alone.

It is competent, and it is for each state exclusively, to decide for itself on its own public policy. Missouri has a right to say that slavery may exist within her borders, and California has the same right to interdict it in hers, and when a slave "escapes" from Missouri, his master may pursue and recover him here through the agency of the acts of Congress.

But can it be reasonably contended that if he choose to bring his slave with him for purposes of his own, perhaps against the will of the slave (for a slave can have no legal will) into a free state and take him back at pleasure as may suit his convenience? If he has a right to bring him here in servitude, he may compel his servile labor, and thus slavery would in fact be introduced into this state in direct violation of its fundamental law, and the citizens of other states would possess a privilege not vouchsafed to our own. New York, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania and New Jersey passed laws giving citizens of slave states coming within their territories, as travelers with slaves, the privilege of taking them back to their domicil within limited periods of time. Those laws are now understood to be repealed, and laws of a stringent and inhibitory character enacted in their stead. No such law has been adopted in this state.

Ought then such a power to be exercised on the ground of comity? Clearly not. Missouri does not ask it, but on the contrary, by her own law holds the slave fully emancipated and would set him free in a suit for his freedom against the master. This was held in Rachael vs. Walker, 4 Missouri Reports, 350, when the respondent, an officer in the United States Navy took a slave to a territory where slavery was prohibited, and retained her several years, in attendance on himself. The court decided that he had thereby lost his property in the slave. So also if the owner of a slave take him to Illinois, and hire him only for a few days, receiving pay, he is entitled to his freedom, 3 Missouri Reports, 270. If the owner takes a slave to a free state, and reside there, the slave is free, Vincent vs. Dousen, 2 Missouri Reports, 214; Mills vs. Smith, ib. 36; Kinney vs. Whitesides, 1 ib. 472. So also in Maryland, if a slave take his residence with the consent of the owner, in another state and afterwards returns, the owner cannot resume his control, 9 Gell & Johns, 19. The supreme court of Massachusetts has held the same rule, deciding that a citizen of Virginia, taking a slave into that state as a personal attendant, cannot restrain him of his liberty, nor carry him out of the state, 18 Pick. 193, Commonwealth vs. Aves.

The same rule was held in Virginia, 5 Leigh, R. 615. The same principle was affirmed in 12 Conn. R. 38. In Forbes vs. Cochron 3, Barn & Cress 448, Mr. Justice Bent said that the Judges were above the age in which they lived, and stood on the high ground of natural rights when they declared that in England, human beings could not be the subject matter of property. This is now the law of France, and the moment a slave puts his foot upon her soil, the chains of his captivity fall at his feet. The Supreme Court of the United States, in Prigg vs. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, declared that a state of slavery was a mere municipal regulation, and no nation was bound to recognize the state of slavery as to foreign slaves within its territory. 16 Pet. R. 539. If then the respondant had a property in the relator in Missouri, when that species of property is recognized by her constitution and laws, it became forfeited when he crossed the boundary line on his journey over the plains, and it is gone forever. If slave-holders would enjoy their property in safety, it would seem that they should keep them at home under the guard and protection of their own peculiar laws. To use the language of the able jurist above quoted, "Slavery is a local law, therefore if a man wishes to preserve his slaves, let him attach them to him by affection, or make fast the bars of their prison, or rivet well their chains, for the instant they get beyond the limits where slavery is recognized by the local law, they have broken their chains, they have escaped from their prisons and are free." With these opinions I most fully and cordially concur.

When, however, a proper case shall arise, when a slave shall break away from his master and take refuge here, it will be the duty of the courts and magistrates to interpose their aid if invoked, for his reclamation. There is no reason to suppose that that duty will not be promptly and firmly discharged, as required by the Act of Congress. This line of conduct, it is believed, will meet with the general concurrence of the intelligent and the good, come from what section they may—from the North or from the South of that Border line which has been too fruitful of discord and danger to the happiness and endurance of this great Republic, on which Freedom's last best hopes are destined to rest to "survive or perish."

There must be judgment against the respondent, and the relator discharged from his custody.

Frank M. Pixley, for Respondent.

From New Zealand.

By an arrival yesterday, we are in possession of Auckland papers to the 1st of Feb.

The ship Lady Harvey, Capt. Hay, hence from this port, arrived there on 30th Jan.

The Novelty cleared for this port, January 31st, with 224 boxes potatoes, 2535 do do, 368 boxes onions, 471 bags barley, 380 bags and 26 casks oats, 400 baskets and 50 bags maize, 14 casks pease, 34 kegs and 12 jars butter, 84 packages rope, 5 boxes cigars.

The Auckland regatta, in celebration of the Eleventh Anniversary of the colony took place on the 29th of January. An immense number of persons were present, and the races are represented as having been extremely exciting. During the firing of the salutes in honor of the boat races, a sailor named Yelland, belonging to H. M. S. Fly, had three fingers from one hand and two from the other shot off.

In the fifth race, the American whale boat Sam Slick was the victor.

The Hio-mama, schooner, was launched again on Tuesday last from Mr. Nicoll's building yard, where she has undergone thorough repairs of the damages she sustained on the reef at Tamski beads, just twelve months ago, on her arrival at this port from Honolulu for a cargo of potatoes, &c., for the California market. Riggers are now busy engaged in getting her ready for sea. We understand that her present owners intend to carry out the original purpose of the former one by loading her with vegetables here, and despatching her for San Francisco. Captain Wing, formerly of the Deborah, is her present commander.

Frightened into it.—A German, who keeps a store on Long Wharf, had a young man arrested upon the charge of robbing, under the following circumstances. It appears that there was an unsettled account between the parties, and that a night or two ago, the young man assaulted the former with an unloaded pistol, and demanded the amount due him. The German was frightened nearly out of his wits, and handed four dollars over, telling him that it was all he had. This appeared to satisfy the latter who let go him, when the former took to his heels in search of a police officer. In the course of the examination yesterday, it became apparent that there was no felonious intent, and that it was merely an uncivil manner of requesting a settlement. The latter was fined $50, and required to give bonds to keep the peace in the sum of one thousand dollars.

The City Property.—The sale of city property, advertised by the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, did not take place yesterday morning, in consequence of the act passed by the Legislature. The sale by the Sheriff, also, on an execution in favor of Dr. Smith, was postponed. There seems to be a good deal of cross-firing in the matter, but where it all will end, is quite a case of quien sabe.

Fighting.—A couple of persons were arrested yesterday for taking a genteel set-to on Long Wharf, to the no small amusement of the spectators. They both appeared to have received sufficient punishment for their disturbing the peace, as their general appearance indicated that the field was severely contested. One gave bail for his appearance to-day, and the other lodged in the station-house.

Benefit at the Jenny Lind.—A rich and interesting entertainment may be expected this evening at the Jenny Lind Theatre. The benefit is for Messrs. Dayton and Moore, the very gentlemanly and obliging ticket holders. Messrs. Fairchild, Tony Oakes and others will favor the audience with some of their most pleasing and delightful songs. Let the benefit be a bumper.

For Oregon.—In consequence of the high wind and rain, yesterday afternoon, the Columbia did not sail for Oregon as advertised. She will sail this afternoon at 4 o'clock, precisely.

News from the San Joaquin Valley.

Todd & Co., furnished us Stockton papers of the 2d inst.

A dead body was found in a horribly mangled condition, on the plains between the Stanislaus and Tuolumne, a few miles from Sirey & Clark's Ferry, a few days ago.

Indian News.—The Stockton Times has been shown a letter received in that city dated "In Camp on the Cowchilla, March 25, 1851," from which the following extract is made:

> We have been among several of the Indian tribes, and made treaties with eight different chiefs. We will start in a few days for the Fresno, where we expect to treat with the most hostile tribe in California. We anticipate trouble with the Cowchilla Indians; they have committed nearly all the murders, and stolen mules enough to pay the entire expenses of this expedition.

Good Times Coming.—We believe that a large number of teams left this city with goods for the mines, etc., on Sunday last than on any preceeding day for three months. This is a sure sign of reviving trade.—Stockton Times.

Flowers.—From our sanctum we can look out and behold a beautiful field of gold for miles, which the recent rains have caused to spring up. O, ye San Franciscans, ye may talk about Telegraph Hill, but come up to Stockton, and we will make your hearts rejoice at this beautiful prospect.—Ib.

Effects of the Late Rains.—The effect of the late rains has been of the most favorable character. The gulches in the mountains have been well filled, and a gentleman just from Jamestown says that miners who could not make $3 a day by packing the dirt, are now earning from $8 to $20. He says that each shower was worth a million of dollars.

The grass and other crops on the plain wear a very luxuriant appearance. Mining, trade, crops; all are "looking up."—Ib.

Pistols Again—We are informed that a difficulty took place on Saturday evening last between judge Jones and one of the proprietors of the Louisiana Ball Room. Two shots were fired, but neither of them took the effect intended, one ball striking the counter and the other the kitchen door.—Ib.

The latest dates from Valparaiso, are to the 8th of February, of which we have the Mercantile Reporter, by an arrival yesterday. For the marine intelligence the reader is referred to the appropriate head.

The British steamer Vulcan, en route for San Francisco, has been sold at Valparaiso for 35,000. She is designed to run between Copiapo and the Southern ports.

The schooner Ellen, of New York, was advertising for a loan of $5,000 to enable her to proceed on her voyage to this port.

The American ship Charlotte, from San Francisco, arrived at Valparaiso on February 1st, with 10,474 ounces gold dust for Joshua Waddington.

Flour.—During the third quarter of the year 1850, the exportation of flour to California amounted to $244,110. The amount exported to Peru during the same period was $59,352.

The United States sloop of was St. Marys arrived at Valparaiso on the 6th of February, 40 days from Rio de Janeiro.

The Portland, flag ship of Admiral Moresby, sailed six days before her.

The Grain Crops.—A correspondent of the Mercurio states that in Talca the harvest is good in Colchagua the kernel has not filled, and the crops have suffered, but all deficiency from that source will be made up by the increased amount of land sown with grain; in Rancaguna the crops are abundant notwithstanding any damage caused by the showers in October, November and December; in Santiago also any diminution caused by the wet weather has been amply compensated for by the uncommon quantity of grain planted.—Neighbor.

Valuable Publications.—Messrs. Burgess, Gilbert & Still have laid on our table some very rich and interesting books and magazines. The April numbers of Godey's Ladies Book and Graham's Magazine, are extremely rich and racy, and surpass any numbers we have previously seen. The engravings alone are worth the price of the publication. All the latest and best publications can be had at their establishment on the west side of the Plaza.

Indian Troubles.—Maj. Gen. Bean is about to leave in a few days for the Cahoone Pass, to repel the Indians, who have become exceedingly troublesome in that quarter. The Indians have been stealing cattle, and committing many depredations in the neighborhood of San Luis Obispo.

Rich China Goods.—A splendid variety of rich China goods was received and opened yesterday, by Tucker & Reeve, the extensive jewelers, No. 30 Clay street. Dressing tables of the finest quality, writing desks, Chinese boxes, and an endless variety of other goods, are displayed in rich profusion.

New Bonded Warehouse.—The Government took possession the 1st of April, of a large and splendid warehouse on the corner of Market and Mission streets. The building is of iron, 135 feet long by 133 wide, 12 high, and is the property of James Eldridge, Esq.

Petty Robbery.—Some heartless scoundrels entered the house of the Rev. William Taylor, on Jackson street, last Wednesday night, and carried off a small quantity of clothing, of but little value. Most of the articles have been recovered.

Steamer Senator.—This fine steamer of the People's Line, which has been hauled off for the last two weeks, has again taken her place in the line. She has been thoroughly refitted and overhauled, and is now one of the most splendid crafts on our waters.

BY LAST NIGHT'S BOAT.

News from the Sacramento Valley.

We are under obligations to Freeman & Co., for furnishing us with Sacramento papers last evening.

The Union publishes some dreadful developments connected with the shooting and wounding of the two burglars who attempted to rob the "Palace" a few nights since. It seems that they belong to a regularly organized band of burglars who robbed the "Pocahontas," a short time since. One of the men who was shot has been recognized by Capt. Eckley, the landlord, as the persons who stood over him with a drawn dirk at the time of the robbery.

The news from the mines are cheering, and success attends the efforts of the industrious and persevering. On the North Fork of Feather river there was still considerable snow and provisions were very high. Flour was worth a dollar and a quarter per pound, and onions and other luxuries proportionably higher.

CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE.

April 2, 1851.

IN SENATE—Mr. Miller, from the committee on roads and highways, reported back an act to ratify and confirm an ordinance of the council of San Francisco, authorizing the building of a plank road from San Francisco to the Mission Dolores, and recommend its passage.

Mr. Heydenfeldt, of the San Francisco delegation, to whom had been referred an act to modify the Superior Court of San Francisco, reported the same back and recommended its passage.

IN ASSEMBLY—Mr. Murphy, from the committee on ways and means, reported a bill prescribing the mode of assessing and collecting the public revenue. Which was read the first and second times, and two hundred copies ordered printed.

The bill concerning certain trespasses in the mining counties of the State, was read the third time and passed.

The House took up the amendments of the Senate to the San Francisco city charter, and refused to concur in any one of them. Also refused to recede from Assembly's amendments which were non-concurred in by the Senate.

Mr. Moore, from the Judiciary Committee, to whom was referred the joint resolution directing the Attorney General to commence a suit against the administrator of the estate of W. A. Leidsdorff, reported a bill providing for the disposition of escheated estates, as a substitute for the resolution.

The bill was rejected by ayes 14, noes 9.

Mr. Saunders offered a substitute for the original resolution, directing the Attorney General to inquire as to whether the Leidsdorff estate had escheated to the State, and if so, to commence a suit forthwith against the person having charge of such estate.

On motion of Mr. Baldwin, the whole subject was referred to a select committee consisting of Messrs. Baldwin, McCorkle, Murphy, Saunders and Thorne, with instructions to report on Monday next.

The joint resolution from the Senate relating to the pious fund of California, was read three several times and passed.

Mr. Baldwin introduced a resolution requiring the Superintendent of Public Instruction to submit a report to the Legislature, recommending a system for the establishment of common schools, &c.

After some debate the resolution was adopted.

The Senate Bill defining what in certain cases shall be sufficient evidence of possession in actions brought for the recovery of property. Was read the first and second times, and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Lisle moved to reconsider the vote by which the House passed the bill concerning trespasses on mineral lands in the State.

Pending the consideration of the subject, the House adjourned.

The object of this Association is to provide a fund for the relief of persons who may be injured while doing duty as Firemen; subject to the conditions hereinafter provided.

ARTICLE III.

Sec. 1. The members of this body shall consist of delegates, elected, one from each Engine, Hose, and Hook and Ladder Company.

ARTICLE IV.

The officers shall consist of a President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer, to be elected annually. Every election shall be by ballot, and the votes of a majority of the members present necessary for a choice.

ARTICLE V.

A majority of the Commissioners elect shall form a quorum, for the transaction of business.

ARTICLE VI.

Sec. 1. It shall be the duty of the President to preside over all meetings of the body. He shall hear and examine into applications for relief, and shall have power to make temporary provision for any disabled Firemen; and for that purpose he may draw upon the Treasurer for an amount not exceeding in any one case, fifty dollars. He shall, however, report at the first regular meeting thereafter, all such cases.

MAGNIFICENT WORK OF ART.
